If you think that the pension crisis will solve itself over the next few years with a few minor "fixes and adjustments", I am not your candidate.

If you believe that the solution to the transient problem is to buy or build each transient a new house, provide three gourmet meals a day, and be sure they have a weekly massage, I am not your candidate.

If you believe that the rampant, out of control, car smash and grab thefts, home burglaries, and transient and drug fueled shoplifting epidemic will get better, almost magically, by providing more government counseling and assistance programs, I am not your candidate.

If you feel walking city streets at night is safe (some of them even during the day) then it's possible that I'm not your candidate.

If you feel like every problem in our city can be solved with more money, particularly without a radical hardcore change in "business as usual", I am almost certainly not your candidate.

However, if you're "fed up and sick of the BS", and want the pampering of people and programs that don't work to stop, then I am exactly who you should vote for.
